THE following appears in a Washington letter to the Dayton, Ohio, Journal : Colonel H. C. Cornin is spoken of as a canshe made such rapid progress, shricking in the meanwhile, that the fellow dropped the purse, but kept on the even tenor of his man with a big, level head, an iron will and incorruptible heart. He would make as good a public officer as he has made a brave soldier. To this the Springfield Republic adds: We most heartily approve of this suggestion. The Colonel is a man of force, ability, good sense and of very pleasant manners. But the editor of the Journal, who is brother-in-law to the Colonel, vetoes the project with the remark, ' that Colonel CORBIN has too much sense to leave the 'army for politics.' " And to this THE NATIONAL REPUBLICAN adds, that Colonel CORBIN would adorn Congress as much as he does the army.

> WHAT THEY THOUGHT OF GRANT. There lies before us a copy of the Vicksburg Daily Citizen of July 2, 1863. It is printed on wall paper, on one side only, the proprietor being J. M. Swords. The first paragraph that being J. M. SWORDS. The first paragraph that strikes our attention is the following:

ON DIT.—That the great ULYSSIS—the Yankee Generalisation, surmained Grant—mas expressed his intention of dhing in Vicksburg on Saturday next, and celebrating the Fourth of July by a grand dimer, and so forth. When asked if he would invite General Joe Johnston to Join he said, "No, for fear there will be a row at the table." ULYSSIS must get into the city before he dimes in it. The way to cook a rabbit is, "first catch the rabbit," etc.

This paragraph appeared on the 2d of July. In the lower right hand corner of the same paper is a little postscript dated July 4, 1863, and which reads as follows:

Two days bring about great changes. The baner of the Union floats ever Vicksburg. General SEANT has "caught the rabbit," he has dined in Gessburg, and he did bring his dinner with him.
He Citized lives to see it. For the last time it apsears on "wall-paper." No more will it culogize he have yet one of the proper with the citizens of the control irge Southerners to such diet never more. This is he has wall-paper edition, and is, excepting this sole, from the types as we found them. It will be ratuable hearafter as a curlosity.

The paragraph is significant. It was not the work of Swords. Some inquisitive Yankee printer had found the forms of the Daily Cilizer and interjected into it this suggestive postscript. It only illustrates the "taking" way Grant has with him. His enemies now
